Wagner's exit prompts city search

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - Belle Glade City Manager Rolfe Wagner is expected to leave the Glades area by the end of the month to assume duties at a city in New Mexico, and the city commission will hold its first meeting in the search for his replacement today at noon.

Wagner announced Monday, October 12 that he had received a telephone call at about 7:30 that evening from Jerry Parker, the mayor of Aztec, New Mexico, and was offered the position of city manager there.

He said he accepted and expects to assume his duties about November 1.

Aztec is a small north-western New Mexico city of 6,500 people situated on the Animas River about 35 miles from Durango, Colorado and near the Navajo Dam.

Wagner had flown out to Aztec for an interview with the city officials about two weeks ago, and said the city was his first choice of employment among all the cities he had applied.

"You don't often get your first choice," he said.

The city commission has scheduled a meeting for today at noon to discuss the process of seeking a replacement.

Frank Anderson, the city finance director, will serve as interim city manager until another is hired and takes over, according to Mayor Thomas L. Altman.

Anderson has served as interim city manager in the past, but refused to take the job permanently despite requests from the commissioners, said Altman.

"Boy, we begged him to take it," said Altman. "But he wouldn't. And he was right. It's a terrible job."

Altman said Anderson has always performed well in the interim position and the city should not suffer for the loss of a permanent city manager during the time it takes to fill the position.

"To the average person on the street, there won't be any difference," said Altman. "In fact, there won't be any difference."

"I really think we're gonna be able to fill up the position fairly fast," he added.

Wagner and the city commission had reached an "amicable" agreement about three weeks ago that he would be leaving and seeking employment elsewhere.

He said that he believed the employees, staff and elected officials of Belle Glade deal regularly with a combination of the toughest problems cities face, and do it well.

"It takes a special breed of people to go out in the middle of one of the country's most hostile natural environments and build a city and keep it going," he stated. "You have my respect, best wishes and admiration."

"I know that you have said many times in the past that in your mind, this [the south-west section of the United States] was the place to be," said Altman at a Monday night meeting. "We do congratulate you and wish you the best."

"The period of time that I've served you and the commission has been a memorable one for me," responded Wagner.

Knifemaker

Local man to display handiwork

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE - A teacher at West Technical Institution, recognized as one of the top knife makers in the nation, will be displaying some of his work at a show in Tallahassee.

Don Zaccagnino, a machine shop instructor at West Tech, was invited to display some of his products at the Four Arts Center from November 12 to November 28 in an exhibit called "Knifemaking: An American Artform."

The exhibit is being presented by Institute for Contemporary Arts at Florida State University.

Zaccagnino is one of 12 knifemakers from Florida and 20 from the nation that were invited to display their work.

Zaccagnino said he has been interested in knives and knifemaking since he was a child, but it wasn't until 1969 that he "went commercial" and became a professional.

His father used to work for a lock factory in Connecticut and had made several knives out of files at his job that Zaccagnino said he still has. His own work is a far cry from the 12 inch stilettos on file handles made by his father, though.

Among the objects he will be displaying will be a 12 inch stilettos with a designed hilt, two 12 inch knives with razor sharp edges and an ax.

Zaccagnino, 51, took up knifemaking commercially after a two-week visit in 1969 to the shop of Gil Hibben of Manit, Utah. Hibben has designed knives for a major cutlery firm.

He and Steve Johnson introduced Zaccagnino to professional equipment and procedures.

"I had collected and greatly admired Gil's work and designs since he started knifemaking professionally," stated Zaccagnino in a biography submitted to the Institute of Contemporary Art.

He also credits Harvey Drapers with influencing his design style. Other influences include Medieval, and Renaissance edged weapons, and Italian and other European "Armi Bianchi."

Robert Ables' "Classic Bowie Knives" are "number 1 in the Bowie design I love most and I pattern my Bowies after it," stated Zaccagnino. "Gil, Harvey, myself and a few others seem to have been highly influenced by this blade style or blades similar to it."

Zaccagnino does all his knifemaking at a shop in his garage.

Zaccagnino said he isn't trying to use his shop

DON ZACCAGNINO displays some of the knives he will be sending to the exhibit in Tallahassee next month. He's made knives professionally for 13 years.

Man dies in mishap

SOUTH BAY - Randy Roger Gibson, 29, of South Shore Village was killed instantly Tuesday morning at approximately 8:30 a.m., in a tractor mishap.

Gibson, an employee of United States Sugar Corporation and a lifelong friend Johnny Jefferson, also an employee of the company was pulling a tractor just two miles west of South Bay when the fatal accident occur.

According to Det. William Bass of the Glades Substation Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department, the tractor Gibson was pulling broken loose and in an attempt to sop the tractor, Gibson was 'pulled underneath.

Bass said the cause death has been ruled accidental.

Gibson body was released to the Miller Mortuary.

WSWN turns 35 on Sunday

BELLE GLADE - WSWN "The Mighty Ninety" the little station with the long reach will celebrate its 35th year of broadcasting Sunday.

The community is invited to tour WSWN new facility at 2001 State Road 715, take a bite of the giant birthday, and listen to some of the "best country and western music from their Oldies Goldie Library."

Radio Station WSWN, after four months of construction during what old timers have termed "the most calamitous summer we remember" went on the air with a dedicatory program on Sunday, Oct. 5, 1947, from the stage of the Everglades Theatre at 1:30 p.m.

The Seminole Broadcasting received permission from the Federal Communication Commission on April 17, 1947 to construct a 1000 watt broadcast station in Belle Glade. Tom Watson, Jr. served as president of the company.

During the early years, WSWN had enough power to carry a signal into Miami, as far west as Fort Myers, and the East coast from north of Fort Pierce.

Today the station's signal is even stronger. The Rev. Jimmy Sims, one of the station's announcers, said the station serves 18 counties with up-to-the-minute programming.

The first office of the Seminole Broadcasting Company and WSWN studio was located on the second floor of the Scarboro Building located on Second Street and Ave. A.

According to Ms. Kells Rivers, of WSWN, Mr. and Mrs. George (Dorothy) Scarboro performed much of the remodeling on the second floor of the building for the new station.

Mr. and Mrs. Scarboro are expected to be in attendance at the reception Sunday, according to Ms. Rivers.

A number of local people also served on the WSWN staff. Mrs. Nellie Honre was in charge of the accounting department, Mrs. Julia Chappell was the traffic manager, Billy Eggleston, Tina Llosy and Larry Parker served as member of the announcing staff, and Billy Mathis served as the office assistant.

George Watson Tebo and Harvey Poole, Sr. worked the advertising department.

Poole, presently the Minority Program Services Director for WSWN, sold advertisement for the station two months prior to WSWN going on the air.

Poole said two of his very first customers, Royals Department Store and the Funeral Home are still advertising with the station.

City asks state to delay marina bridge improvements

BELLE GLADE - The city of Belle Glade has asked the state department of transportation to delay its scheduled improvements on the Point Chosen Bridge because of the adverse effect construction would have on the users and businesses of the marina during the peak months, asked City Manager Rolfe Wagner.

According to Wagner, the state has assured the city that the contractor will be required to keep the bridge open from noon to 1 p.m. Monday through Fridays and every evening after six until seven the next day for vehicle traffic. Pedestrian transportation across the rim canal must be provided 24 hours a day and the bridge will be opened to traffic 24 hours a day during the weekends.

Emergency vehicles will have a right of way.

The work must be completed within 180 days after it is started according to DOT reports, but Wagner said he and city officials feel the timing of the project is bad.

If work begins this fall it could effect the winter trade at the marina, the peak business season. Wagner said he hopes the state will move the schedule on the project back so it won't affect the businesses there.

Watt appoints SR 80 task force on trip to Glades

State Representative James Watt was in the Glades Tuesday, October 12 to some re-election campaigning, and also to announce the creation of a State Road 80 Task Force.

According to Watt, the task force, patterned after the I-95 task force established by Senator Tom Lewis, will try to focus additional attention on the urgent need to four-lane the highway from West Palm Beach to the Glades. Belle Glade Mayor Thomas L. Altman, Pahokee Mayor Duncan Padgett, County Commissioner Bill Bailey, J. Marvin Uwin, David Goodlett, Bink Glisson, Rick Roth and Frank Jones, chairman of the Canal Hazards Safety Committee, will serve on the force. The first meeting of the force is scheduled for early December. "We need to bring together all of our talent and resources to impress upon the governor and the legislature the severity of the problem and urgency of four-laning state road 80," stated Watt. Watt is campaigning for re-election to the District 81 state house seat. This is the first election under the single member district system. "I think it will make for better government, be it from me or my opponent," he said. "It will bring us into closer touch with the local government leaders and business people."

City commission may meet with CRB

BELLE GLADE -- After months of arguing with each other via letters and recommendations through third parties, the Belle Glade City Commission and Palm Beach County Community Relations Board may come face to face. The city commission Tuesday, October 12, accepted a proposal from the board that the two groups meet at a time of mutual convenience. The board had toured the blighted south west section of the city several times in recent months, and made recommendations to the Palm Beach County Commission on steps necessary for the city to revitalize the area. In a letter to the city commission, Rabbi Alan Sherman, chairman of the Community Relations Board, stated that the board had informed the city and media of all the meetings and tours and invited them to participate or attend, but that no city official had attended or participated in the events. Belle Glade Mayor Thomas L. Altman said the city received an invitation to one meeting two hours after it began, but no invitations were received to the other events. He added that one of two city employees had attended one of the meetings held in the Glades.

Altman said he didn't know of the tours until he read about them in the Palm Beach Post. The Herald-Observer never received any invitations or announcements concerning the tours and meetings.

"Yeah, I think it's sorta funny that after the fact, they wanna meet," said Commissioner George Goforth. "We haven't had a chance to respond to any of their charges. Personally, I could care less if I meet with them."

"I think it's way past time that they ask to meet with us," said Commissioner William Grear. "Much of the information that was given them was erroneous."

FCC rule may affect local cable co.

BELLE GLADE -- A Federal Communications Commission rule requiring that cable companies receive and provide to their customers the signals of any television stations with a 35 mile signals may affect the local cable company, according to the area manager.

According to James Brewer, Jones Interchange hasn't been notified yet, but there is a possibility that it may be required by the regulation to provide the signal from channel 29, the new television station in West Palm Beach, to its viewers. The FCC is currently examining the requirement in relation to a cable company on the coast.

"We're just waiting to see," he said. The station can be received by most Glades viewers with a UHF antenna, and Brewer said he would prefer to see the FCC waive the rule and allow the company to continue carrying signals from stations most residents cannot receive with benefit of a cable.

"Most of the stations we carry are required or requested by people in the Glades," he said. "It's (channel 29) so strong that most people can pick it up with a UHF antenna. I'd hate to lose something we can't get otherwise." Jones Interchange holds the franchise on the local cable systems.

FPL'S WATT-WISE. PRODUCTS PROGRAM

The professional contractor or dealer displaying this sign is participating in FPL's Watt-Wise Products Program.

The program consists of four financial incentives designed to help qualifying customers make their homes more energy-efficient and use less electricity.

Cooling & Heating Incentive. FPL will pay up to several hundred dollars towards the cost of having an older air conditioning system or heat pump replaced with a qualifying high efficiency system.

Ceiling Insulation Incentive. FPL will pay up to $300 towards the cost of having ceiling insulation installed.

Water Heating Incentive. FPL will pay up to several hundred dollars towards the cost of having an inefficient water heater modified or replaced with a solar water heater, water heating heat pump or heat recovery unit.

Solar Film Incentive. FPL will pay up to $150 towards the cost of having solar-reflective film installed. This helps reduce air-conditioning costs.

To qualify for the last three incentives, work must first be recommended by a free FPL Home Energy Audit.

It's that simple. And that profitable to you.

Meet our staff

It's National Newspaper Week again, just like it was last year at this time, and we'd like to introduce you to our staff.

This is the week when you are all supposed to be buying us gifts and talking about what wonderful people we are.

Five people work out of the Belle Glade office and we want you to know them so you can praise them and talk about them more knowledgeably.

They work out of two departments and there are also some behind the scenes people who we think you should know about.

The primary purpose of the newspaper is different depending on who you are and what your relationship to the newspaper is.

If you are the average reader, you probably read the newspaper for information. Information can be obtained from news copy and advertisements.

News copy is supposed to supply factual information about government, events, sports and anything else of interest or concern to readers.

At the Herald-Observer, the news is covered by three individuals.

Associate Editor Alma Henry has been with Hammell Newspapers of Florida for about six years. She covers the South Bay City Commission and other assigned beats in South Bay, Belle Glade and Pahokee.

Alma was once editor of the Lakeshore Shield, which has ceased publication.

Jeff Brown is a reporter with the Herald-Observer. He joined the paper in September 1982 and covers beats in Pahokee and Belle Glade.

Henry and Brown also put the newspaper together on Wednesdays. They place the copy on the pages and send them to the cameras and printing presses for the final steps in the production process.

The newspaper also receives contributions from other employees of Hammell Newspapers.

General Manager Jim Jones' "Boilerplate" appears weekly in the Herald-Observer, and Ailsa Dewing's column "And What Not" also is published on its editorial pages.

Brenda Bunting, the office manager at the Herald-Observer, contributes to the editorial content of the newspaper, also.

She handles many social items and walk-in copy, and often goes to photo assignments and other news events.

Advertising

Advertising is what pays for this newspaper. All of its revenues come from advertising because the newspaper is free distribution. Paid subscriptions cover only the cost of the postage.

Two recent additions to the staff handle the advertising for the Herald-Observer.

Wesley Brown and Judy Sanchez handle the advertising accounts. They each have assigned accounts and try to sell advertising to regular and new clients.

They meet with clients and help them develop an advertisement to suit their needs.

The amount of advertising they sell, plus the amount of copy produced by the editorial department, dictates the size of the newspaper.

Brenda Bunting also helps out in the advertising department. She takes care of the classified advertising at the Belle Glade office. She sends the ads sold at this office over to Clewiston for inclusion in the classified section.

A million things to do

Classifieds and a little copy isn't it? But Bunting handles. She also develops most of the film for this newspaper and makes sure all the supplies needed by the staff are available. She handles the office cash box and usually is the first to hear of any reader, subscriber or advertiser's complaints.

Those complaints are then relayed to the appropriate person. After Bunting receives an earful from the irritated complainer.

On Wednesdays, when the rest of the staff is in Clewiston getting the newspaper ready for printing, Bunting handles any last minute assignments.

She also picks up ads when the ad staff is busy.

Behind the scenes

There are other people who help put this newspaper together, but whom the public never meets.

Jim Jones is the General Manager of the entire chain. His office is in Clewiston, but he makes it over to Belle Glade about two, three times a week. Aside from "Boilerplate," he also has quite a bit of responsibility in the management of the newspapers.

Bernice Christiansen handles the books for the entire chain of three newspapers.

Steve Dupree is the company's press foreman, and doubles as the circulation director.

Rhonda Sauls prints the photographs, and Mary Faye Walker and Ron Calhoun paste up and design advertisements. They also do most of the art work for the newspaper.

The finished product

After all the contents of the newspaper are gathered, including ads, news and pictures, the newspaper is put together at Clewiston.

A photograph of each page is taken, and metal plates made from the negatives.

The metal plates are attached to the press and the newspaper printed.

Stuffers insert the second sections and inserts into the front sections, and when the weather is bad, bag the issues for distribution.

Dupree then circulates the newspapers on Wednesday evenings.

So now you all know who you're talking about when you say all those wonderful things about us during National Newspaper Week.

Who knows, if this works out, we just might have a National Newspaper Year. Or National Newspaper Decade.

Belle Glade chamber sponsors contest

BELLE GLADE-The Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce Beautification Committee is sponsoring its annual poster and slogan contest. All entries must be received at the Chamber of Commerce office by 12 noon on Monday, Oct. 25, for the slogan contest. The poster contest will run from Tuesday, Oct. 26 to Monday, Nov. 8, and will include the winning slogan as part of the poster.

The theme of the poster will be "Tidy Tim says", and refers to making Belle Glade more beautiful. The slogan contest will be the same, "Tidy Tim says". This should be in the form of a short rhyme or jingle and submitted on a 3 x 5 card.

According to Edward J. Foley, Jr., the winner of the slogan contest will have their slogan become part of the winning poster and this will be the official post for the coming year.

Judges for the contests will be Jewel Crane, Executive secretary of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce; Gladys Ganzy, City of Belle Glade Department of Planning and Community Development; Vera Garcia, Glades Central High School Assistant Principal and Ed Foley, Beautification Committee Chairman.

Perspective

Council should act wisely

The Pahokee City Council is currently reviewing the ordinance which in 1979 created a pension for Mayor Duncan Padgett.

The ordinance was necessary because Padgett, who had spent 20 years as mayor and 12 years with the water department, didn't have enough time under the state pension plan to collect retirement under it.

Now, the council members are concerned that the ordinance may create a liability in the future, and they are seeking ways to avoid it.

This shows foresight on their part, and we commend them for it. We also urge them to use discretion. The mayor's retirement shouldn't be decreased by any changes.

All the council members seemed to agree with Ronnie Graydon when he said Padgett has been a great asset to the city for many years.

He has helped the city obtain grant money for several projects from private and public sources.

It would cost to retain his pension at the current level.

We urge the city to continue using foresight and discretion in its actions on this issue.

FCC rule needs revision

If the Federal Communications Commission adheres to its rules, it may require Jones Interchange of the South Bay-Belle Glade-Pahokee area, to include the signal from Channel 29 of West Palm Beach as part of its service.

The rule requires that a system receive the signal from all stations in a 35 mile radius of it.

Channel 29, newly started just two weeks ago, falls into Jones Interchange's 35 mile radius.

If Jones Interchange is required to pick-up the new signal and provide it to subscribers, it will have to bump another station out of its service, according to Area Manager James Brewer.

We think the 35 mile ruling isn't in the best interest of the public.

In essence, it obligates the cable subscriber to pay for reception of stations he or she could pick up with no charge normally.

If it is enforced in this instance, it will have the added effect of depriving paying customers of the benefits of a more remote station that they couldn't otherwise receive.

We urge the FCC to not only waive the rule in this instance, but to consider abolishing the requirement altogether.

Printing the good news

Somebody said it again this week: "Why doesn't the paper ever print good news? Why does it always have to be bad news?"

We can come up with good news! Look at this. The sheriff's office was kept busy Saturday night with calls from motorists at area bars who'd decided they were incapable of driving and asked for a deputy to chauffeur them home.

Also, police report several people have turned in various amounts of money they found. The owners can claim same by noting the amounts lost and places they believe they may have lost their money.

Both county court and circuit court sessions have been canceled again this month because there were no cases to be heard.

A crowd of parents attended the school board meeting last night to commend board members and teachers for the firm disciplinary actions being taken with unruly students.

"I am pleased with the firm hand you've taken with my son and I believe it could change the course of his life," said one mother.

A check for $532 was also presented the school board by a group of students who admitted, upon being questioned by their parents, that they were the ones who broke the gymnasium windows. The parents and students said they wanted to make restitution.

County commissioners also received a certificate of appreciation from a group of residents who told the board it was their way of saying thank you for the time the commissioners have spent on county business and for the improvements their efforts have effected.

Volunteers were out again last weekend picking up litter in the parks and along curbs, and are offering to mow lawns for the elderly or the homebound. The city's beautification project has been an overwhelming success and no eyesores are to be found in any neighborhood.

With the concerted effort of loyal residents to Shop at Home, several merchants are expanding stocks and have hired additional help.

Planned expansions are underway by numerous businesses. The delay in construction, most store owners said, was caused by the shortage of workers, electricians, and plumbers who are already committed to finishing other projects first.

Meanwhile, the county's share of sales tax revenue doubled during the last quarter, offsetting losses in fines and forfeitures due to the lack of arrests for traffic violations.

All of this goes to show you that newspapers do know how to print good news, and will. Just as soon as everyone goes out and makes it happen.

No reason to miss professional football

There is a lot of talk in the Glades this year about who has the finest football team, Pahokee or Clewiston.

Until Pahokee took a tumble against Fort Pierce this past week, the Blue Devils were ranked third in the state.

Their matchup against No. 1-ranked Clewiston this Friday, Oct. 15, appeared to be a dream game.

Despite the loss, the two district rivals possess an amazing amount of talent and a combined 9-1 record.

Friday's contest is sure to bring out the best in the athletic ability of players for both schools.

A loss for Pahokee will end their playoff hopes. Clewiston, having already beaten Immokalee, is halfway home to a district championship and another trip to the state playoffs. Pride, honor, state ranking, and a possible state championship are on the line.

Last year, the Tigers beat Pahokee by one point and went on to become runners-up for the state Class 2A championship.

Clewiston is gunning for a third straight victory over the Blue Devils, a feat they haven't accomplished since the 1958-1959-1960 seasons.

Given the intense rivalry of both teams, it goes without saying that fan turnout for the game will be heavy. Probably would even if both teams were going in 0-5.

I'm looking for an outstanding football game, and hopefully equally outstanding fan cheering and behavior.

It's games like this one that help sooth the pain of the loss of professional football.

I was pleased to see Ronald Reagan tell an obnoxious heckler the other day to "shut up."

Sometimes, the most direct approach is the best. Though there was considerable comment about the incident, it didn't come close to drawing the discussion that Nelson Rockefeller did five or six years ago.

Rockefeller, then vice president, made an obscene gesture at a heckler. A number of newspapers carried the photograph, which showed a gleeful Rockefeller demonstrating one way to silence a critic.

Though most presidential critics may not be as vocal as the one which drew the President's ire, they are sure to continue cropping up, what with the national unemployment rate of 10.1 percent. Happily, presidential cabinet member Donald Regan is correct when he says the economic recovery has already started.

It's enough to make a fellow wish he was on some South Pacific Polynesian isle, eating coconuts and watching the hula.

Two local anesthetists honored

PAHOKEE—In observance of Nurse Anesthetists Week, Everglades Memorial Hospital Administrative staff held a coffee and presented the hospital's two anesthetists with a bouquet of flowers.

Gov. Bob Graham proclaimed October 4 through 11 as Nurse Anesthetists Week. Honored at the coffee held in the hospital's cafeteria Friday morning, Oct. 10 were Miss Betty A. Wood and Mrs. Mary Jane Harden.

Miss Wood, C.R.N.A., has been the chief Nurse Anesthetist of Everglades Memorial Hospital since March 28, 1968. She graduated from Martin Memorial School of Nursing in North Carolina, attended Arizona State University, Tempe, Ariz., and graduated from Charity Hospital School of Anesthesia, New Orleans, La. in June of 1966.

Before coming to Pahokee she was on the Anesthesia staff at Orange Memorial Hospital, in Orlando.

Mrs. Harden, C.R.N.A., graduated from Williamsport Hospital School of Nursing, Williamsport, Penn., in 1949. She attended Sacred Heart Hospital School of Anesthesia in Allentown, Penn., and graduated in 1951.

Mrs. Harden has been an active and practicing member of the American Association of Nurse Anesthetists for 30 years and has been included in the recertification program by the National Association since it was instituted.

During her years as an anesthetist, she taught anesthesia at Norfolk General Hospital, Norfolk, Va. and at the Medical College of South Carolina, Charleston, S.C.

Both Miss Wood and Mrs. Harden are Advanced Registered Nurse Practitioners in the State of Florida.

Hospital Administrator Frank Steinburger presented the flowers to the honorees.

class as a place to sell knives or make them, as he said some people have charged.

"That's dangerous," he said. "That's dangerous to your health."

He also said he would turn down an order if someone wanted to place one.

How much would he charge if someone did place an order with him?

At least $100 an inch.

But it's not the money that attracts him, he said.

"As a boy, I always dreamed of becoming an artist. I have painted some, did wood carving and then finally ended up in knifemaking which has given me a medium of artistic expression," Zaccagnino said.

"It satisfies those drives within me as well as the esthetics that collectors and the like may experience with knives and edged weapons."

"I like to work with these," said Zaccagnino, holding up his hands.

Most of the jargon Zaccagnino uses about his art serves to remind that art can get technical.

"I use 440c stainless and 17-4 PH for blade steels," he stated in his biography for the exhibit. "440c still seems to perform well in edge holding ability with a hardness of Rc-58, yet be reasonably easy to sharpen. 17-4 PH is an expensive specialty stainless that has half again the strength and corrosion resisting properties of 440c but not the edge holding ability."

That all means something to Zaccagnino. He explained that all grades of steel have certain properties that affect their corrosion resistance, hardness, edge-holding ability and sharpening ability.

Still other properties affect the makers ability to put a polish on the metal.

For metal to reach its hardest, it has to be placed under its "critical temperature" for about an hour.

Most critical temperatures are about 1500 degrees Fahrenheit, but some of the metals Zaccagnino can be hardened at 900 degrees, he said.

Zaccagnino also produces his own guards and hilts for the weapons he makes.

Two of the knives he is sending to the exhibit in Tallahassee sport knives made from antlers of deer. The stiletto has a designed, wooden handle and the axe has a black wooden handle.

"I am honored to have been invited to have my work displayed in Tallahassee at Florida State Institute for Contemporary Art," he stated.

Gators slay Dragons 20-7

BELLE GLADE - With the killer part of the schedule behind them, the Glades Day Gators are preparing for district competition. And Coach Byron Walker, Jr. seems to think the team can come out on top.

Consider that the Gators only lost the district title last year by virtue of their loss to Benjamin early in the season.

Consider that this year, the team has played four consecutive 2A schools to open the season, and that the Gators have a 2-2 record against the bigger schools.

"I'm pleased, I really am," said Walker. "I still think we need some improvements."

"We paid our dues," he said of the last four weeks which he earlier admitted could see the Gators go winless. "I believe in my heart that we should win the district. The kids just have to make up their mind that that's what they want more than anything else in the world. It's the hardest part of coaching, keeping the kids up from one week to the next."

Instead of 0-4, the Gators are 2-2 because of victories over Bishop Verot two weeks ago and a victory over Lake Placid Friday, October 8.

The Gators played the Lake Placid Dragons with seven points in the first quarter and three in the second. In the second half, the Gators picked up seven points in the third and three in the fourth, while holding the Dragons to just seven points in 48 minutes.

Mike Schlechter put in a sterling performance by kicking for eight points, hitting field goals from 35 yards in the second and 31 yards in the fourth.

He also succeeded in two extra point attempts. In the first, Jesse Lee hit Marlon Tyson with an 81 yard pass for the first points of the game. Schlechter kicked the extra-point afterwards.

The Gators pulled to within one yard of a first down in the second, but instead of going for it and possibly coming up empty, Schlechter was called on again. He hit the field goal from 35 yards out.

The Gators came back from the half-time, in which Karina Holt was crowned homecoming queen, and saw their 10-0 lead reduced by seven points when the Dragons' Obie Bullard carried the ball over the goal line from four yards out.

The extra-point was good and the Gators' once comfortable ten point lead was cut to three.

The Gators wasted no time in expanding that gap again. Still in the third, they picked up seven more points when Jose Perez took the ball over from the one yard line.

Once again, Schlechter was on target with the extra-point and the Gators were up 17-7.

Schlechter could have won the game on his own when he pushed his point total on the night up to eight in the fourth quarter.

He hit a field goal from the 31 yard line to give the Gators a 20-7 victory.

"I feel like we could have made it," Walker said of the fourth and one situation which gave Schlechter his fourth chance at scoring. "But we elected to go for the field goal instead."

"We felt at the beginning of the season that our kicking game, the scoring part at least, was pretty good. He (Schlechter) is not a big kicker, but, as you can see, he has range. And those two field goals, it wasn't like they just dropped over the crossbar."

The Gators picked up 12 first downs on the night while containing the Dragons to just nine.

Both teams picked up 157 yards on the ground, but Glades Day dominated the passing game with a total of 121 yards versus the Dragons 13.

"I thought we did a good job on defense containing Lake Placid's speed," Walker said.

Lamar Landing and Frank Thompson led the Gator defense. Landing had two tackles and seven assists and Thompson had one tackle and eight assists.

Landing and Dave Haynes each recovered Lake Placid fumbles and Brian Lohmann intercepted a Lake Placid pass.

"If we continue to play good pass defense and sit in on the run a little better, we're gonna play good defense," said Walker.

Offensively, the Gator ground attack was led by Jose Perez who scored one touchdown and picked up 64 yards in 14 carries.

Haynes picked up 70 yards in 14 carries.

Quarterback Raul Garcia completed two of four passes for 40 yards. Marlon Tyson hit one of one in the 81 yard passing play to Jesse Lee for a touchdown.

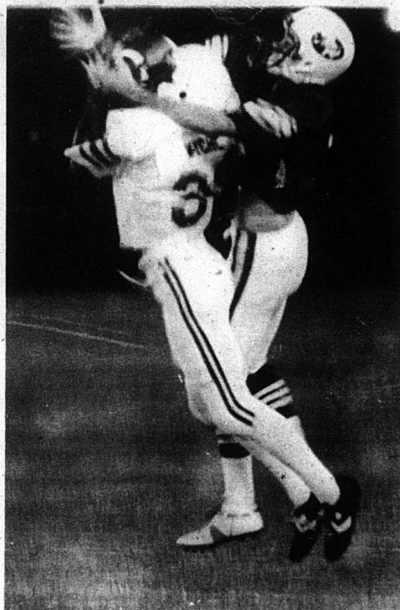

Lee had completed two passes for a total of 110 yards.

Brian Lohmann caught one pass for 11 yards.

"We kind of just put things together and played good ball," Walker said.

This week, the Gators travel to King's Academy to play their first district game.

"They play us tough as nails every year," Walker said of the seventh ranked King's. "They're big. We're gonna have to really get physical with them. We're confident we have a shot at upsetting King's."

A GATOR breaks up a pass in the Friday night game against Lake Placid. The Gators beat the Dragons 20-7.

Rowe is All-Am hopeful

Former Glades Central football standout Johnny Rowe, a senior at Delaware State University in Winston-Salem is having a field day setting new school records at DelState.

Last year, Rowe became the first player in the history of Delaware State College football to rush for over 1,000 yards in a season. Instead of being satisfied with that and shooting for a similar mark this year, Rowe has set his sights on 1,500 yards for the 1982 season.

According to a Rowe's player profile printed in the Winston-Salem Chronicle, "it would be a mistake for opposing teams to take Rowe's lofty goal too lightly. Playing for a 2-9 team that was struggling to adapt to a brand new offensive system, Rowe still managed to stun the rest of the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference by blitzing for 1,039 yards

Pahokee, Clewiston clash for title

By GLEN GIFFORD

Two of the better Class 2A football teams in the state clash Saturday at Cane Field when the CHS Tigers take on the Pahokee Blue Devils.

But neither team will be thinking of state rankings or Southwest Florida bragging rights as kickoff time approaches. At stake in this contest is something even more important: a bid to the playoffs and a chance at the state title.

The winner will take the title of District 14 champions into the state playoffs late next month. The losers' season probably will end after they've completed the regular season, barring a possible bowl appearance.

"Our kids get up for Pahokee as much as anybody all season," said CHS coach Al Morrell. "Since I've been here it's usually decided the district championship."

Both teams come into the contest with their strongest squads in years. The 5-0 Tigers have stood atop the state 2A poll all season. After practically close wins in their first two games, they have settled down to blow out their last three op-

Fort Pierce hands PHS first defeat

FORT PIERCE-The Pahokee High School Blue Devils found themselves being dropped from the list of unbeaten high schools in Palm Beach and dropped from the Florida's Sportswriters Top 10 poll this week.

The Devils were handed their first defeat by Fort Pierce Central at Lawnwood Stadium on Friday night, Oct. 8.

The loss also dropped the Devils out of the tie with Cardinal Newman for first place in the Suncoast West Conference.

The Devils still have a chance to win their district contest with a win over Clewiston High School Friday night.

The Clewiston Tigers are ranked number one in the Florida's Sportswriters Association's Class 2-A Poll and are unbeaten.

Although the Tigers are expected to have a competitive edge over the Devils. Both teams' impressive statistics can be thrown out of the window an intense game as Friday's game is expected to be.

The Clewiston-Pahokee match is always one of the area's most spectacular games and both teams go into the game with a "die-hard" attitude. Clewiston won the game last year and represented the District in the Class 2-A playoffs.

In Friday's game against the Devils, the Panthers wasted no time in testing the Pahokee defensive line. Coming into the game the Devils had allowed on 130 total yards in its first three games.

Panther Zerton Simpson broke off tackle on the third play from scrimmage and raced 37 yards for the Panthers' first touchdown. Jeff Myers' conversion kick went wide, but Westwood had a 6-0 lead less than two minutes into the game.

The Panther offensive line opened up holes wide enough for both, Simpson and Shawn Tillman to run through time and time again in the first half. The two Westwood backs accounted for most of the 142 yards the Panthers accumulated in the first half.

The Blue Devils could chalk up only 30 yards total offense in the first half and all of that came through the air. The Devils were held minus-1 yard rushing in the first half.

Robert White ran 80 yards up the right sideline with punt late in the second quarter. Myers added the conversion kick and the Panthers had a somewhat surprising 13-0 lead at the half.

Pahokee began the second half in similar fashion to Westwood's first half start.

The Blue Devils took the second half kickoff and drove to the Westwood 13 yard line, where the Panther defense stiffened and held on downs. It was the closest Pahokee would get to the Panther end zone all night.

Fort Pierce concluded the scoring with a 38-yard field goal midway through the fourth quarter. The score was set up on forty yard run by White.

Crusaders' 15-7 win ups record to 4-1

By JEFF BROWN

BELLE GLADE—Can the Crusaders keep rolling in their quest for a 7-2 season? One more victory and they'll be assured of finishing over .500 for the first time in history.

That may be a bigger order than can be delivered though. If it's to be done, it's to be done without the services of starting quarterback Alex Morales, who was injured in Saturday's game.

The Christian Day Crusaders traveled to Okeechobee to take on the junior varsity squad which defeated them 6-12 last year, and came away with a 15-7 victory.

The Crusaders scored first when Morales hit Robert Echols with a 25 yard touchdown pass. Morales hit the extra point to put the Crusaders up 7-0 with 7:04 left in the first half.

Disaster struck in Okeechobee's next possession.

Okeechobee immediately moved the ball downfield and when Quarterback Jerry Bowers hit George Turner with a 70 yard TD pass, the score was tied at seven.

The Crusaders lost more than a lead, though. Alex Morales, pursuing Turner, pulled a hamstring muscle and will probably be out for the duration of the season.

David Chamblee took the reins and kept the Crusader attack moving, though. He led the team to its game winning touchdown in the third.

The Crusaders took possession of the ball at the 49 yard line after a punt and in ten plays moved to within one yard of the goal line.

James Barnwell moved the ball over the line to put the team up 13-7.

The Crusaders faked the extra point attempt and Chamblee hit Pipo Paez with an endzone pass to pick up two points and give the Crusaders their third victory in four games.

Paez led the Crusaders in rushing with 89 yards in ten carries. Philip Echols was second with 82 yards in 19 carries.

Mirto Vigos carried the ball seven times for 24 yards and James Barnwell carried the ball for 13 yards, including a one yard TD run, in three carries.

Before he was injured in the second quarter, Morales completed three of four passes for 40 yards and one touchdown. Chamblee completed one of two for ten yards.

Robert Echols caught all three passes for 51 yards, including a 25 yard touchdown reception. The Crusaders collected 14 first downs while holding the Okeechobee team to just six. They also rushed for 194 yards in 45 carries. Okeechobee picked up only 52 yards in 26 carries.

Okeechobee's passing game picked up 120 yards while the Crusaders moved the ball for only 50 in the air.

The Crusaders' three punts averaged 44.3 yards and Okeechobee averaged only 17.7 in three punts.

"The offensive line did a good job with a change in quarterback," said Joe Guethle, the statistician. "They adjusted remarkably. We're real happy."

Chamblee will remain in the quarterback position for the rest of the year, he said.

This Friday, the Crusaders host Berean Christian at home at 3:30 p.m.

GLADES DAY HOMECOMING QUEEN Karina Holt was crowned at halftime during the Glades Day football game Friday night. Above, she stands with her father Tommy Holt prior to the announcement.

Raiders beat Santaluces

LAKE WORTH—Glades' Central Community School running backs had a field day against Santaluces High School Friday night.

The Raiders trounced the Santaluces Chiefs 62-0 at John I. Leonard High School.

Coach Dan Brown said everyman on the Glades' Central football squad saw action in Fridays game.

The Raiders compiled 278 yards rushing and 82 yards passing for a total of 360 yards.

Quarterback Eric Smith was the games leading scorer.

He passed for two touchdowns and ran for two more. The Raiders took a 22-0 eight quarter lead as Smith ran it in from the three, and threw 6-yard touchdown passes to Alonzo Allen and Paul Harris. Tommy Duhart kicked two extra points in the game.

In the second quarter, Randy Rutledge took over for Smith and scored on a 5 yard run. Rutledge carried the ball 17 times for 144 yards. He also scored again in the third quarter on a 20 yard run.

Harold Posey also scored in the third quarter as did Smith.

In the final quarter, Warren Adderly ran for a 60 yard touchdown and Karl Hodge scored on a 9 yard pass from Kenneth Hammond.

Also scoring for the Raiders was Arthur Bunnett. Bunnett carried the ball five times for 16 yards.

The Raiders recovered five fumbles, had three interceptions and three quarterback sacks.

The Raiders' record is 3-1, and the Chiefs dropped to 0-5.

The Raiders will play at home Friday, Oct. 15 against Atlantic High School.

Bike-a-thon will be held this Saturday, Oct. 16

BELLE GLADE—The Cystic Fibrosis Bike-A-Thon will be held Saturday, Oct. 16 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The bike-a-thon will start at Belle Glade Elementary School with a route in the surrounding neighborhood, according to Mrs. Sharon Underwood, the bike-a-thon chairperson.

Participants are asked to pick up pledge sheets at local school offices or at TimeSavers Stores. Each participant that turns in $25 will receive a free t-shirt.

Cakes will be provided by Nu Kappa Sorority and hot dogs will be sold, with all proceeds being donated to Cystic Fibrosis.

A collection party will be held Saturday, Oct. 30, from 9 to 11 a.m., at Belle Glade Elementary School.

"Give your support to help raise funds for this lung disease that cripples young children by riding in the bike-a-thon," said Mrs. Underwood. For more information contact Mrs. Underwood at 996-0404.

on 208 carries. He averaged 4.9 yards every time he carried the ball and 94.4 yards per game."

Rowe, however, was not a done dimensional player. From his tailback position he, also caught five passes for 104 yards, leading the team with an average of 20.8 yards per reception. He scored two touchdowns on catches, four on the ground and led the Hornets in scoring. Not to go unnoticed when he wasn't running or catching the football, Rowe often leveled his opponents with some fierce blocks.

His performance did not go unrecognized. Rowe, a junior last year, was named first team All-Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference and was selected as the Delaware State News' athlete of the year. In achieving that honor, Rowe had to beat out make and female high school and college athletes from every sport. Rowe was also picked MEAC player of the week twice during the 1981 season.

Rather than accept all the credit for his performance, Rowe chose to spread it around. He heaped praise on his offensive line.

"They did a super job, he said. "Without their superb blocking, I could not have obtained by goal. I would have to credit the entire line for making this possible. They are a great bunch for guys to play with."

Rowe said in shooting for more yards, he's shooting for at least 500 yards more than he got in 1981.

"When I look at what I've done and evaluate myself, I say, 'No, I haven't been playing up to par,' Rowe said.

"Maybe I judge myself harder than I should. But I know what I can do and what I did before."

"I got 1,000 yards, but that's not great. I was looking for more like 1,500 or 1,600. That's kind of been my goal since I've been here at (DelState). I figured I'd get that if I performed up to par."

Rowe said he has set another goal for the team and himself. He hopes DelState has adapted well enough to second-year Joe Purzycki's new Wing-T offense to post at least an 8-3 record this season.

Several weeks ago

DelState played against Bethune Cookman College in Daytona Beach. Mrs. Jane Rowe, 300 N.W. 11th St., Belle Glade, Johnny's grandmother said he did play in the game due to injuries.

Mrs. Rowe said Johnny was recently released from the hospital, where he underwent surgery on one of his knees.

She also said he is recovering, but he still has not been allowed to return to playing football.

Johnny's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Rowe are presently stationed with the U.S. Army in Puerto Rico.

Achievement Tests Completed

Lake Shore Middle School completed state achievement tests Thursday and Friday and hopes are high among school administrators that Lake Shore's scores on the tests will improve dramatically.

"It's been hectic but I think everything went smoothly," said Guidance Counselor Leida Hall, referring to the testing.

The tests, given statewide to third, fifth and eighth grade students took three hours each day. The students took the tests in 30-student groups with one teacher present for each group.

The tests were a culmination of Lake Shore's intensive review program designed to sharpen the students' basic skills.

"I believe the review sessions helped me a lot," said eighth grader Regina Thompson. "I felt more comfortable with the problems this year than I did last year."

County Playoffs

Attention at Lake Shore this week has turned to the baseball and softball teams and their chances in the county playoffs.

The boys baseball team continues to improve with each game. After a slow start the team has upped its record to 3-7. Eighth graders Jimmy Davis, Howard Hill and Walter Hall lead the roadrunners into this week's game against Crestwood and Kennedy.

The Lake Shore softball team continues to dominate county play and head into the playoffs, to be held Oct. 20-22, as heavy favorites. Football practice has begun and team members hope to bring back the county championship for the second time in three years.

PBJC plans College Day

All high school juniors and seniors and their parents from public and private schools in Palm Beach county are invited to attend the annual College Day, to be held Friday, November 5 in the Palm Beach Junior College gym, according to counselor G. Owen Ferguson, coordinator of the event. "More than 100 colleges and universities, and mostly from the eastern United States, are expected to participate," Ferguson said.

"We have already received acceptances from more than 90, and we expect that more will be coming in before November," she added.

College Day is sponsored by the PBJC Student Affairs Office in cooperation with the Palm Beach County Personnel and Guidance Association.

Title Clash

Pahokee sailed through the first three games of their schedule before being ambushed 16-0 last week by Ft. Pierce Westwood. As a result, the Blue Devils plummeted all the way from third in the state poll out of the top 10 and into "honorable mention" status. A win over the Tigers doubtless would regain the pollsters' good favor.

Under second-year coach Sandy Hyneman, the Blue Devils top players are all-state linemen Walter Johnson, quarterback Antonio Wilson and guard Michael McIlwain.

Clewisson counters with fleet receiver and kick returner Marcus Dixon, linebacker Ralph Brockington and linebacker Randy Davis.

In five years at CHS, Al Morrell has a 9-2 record against the Tigers' arch-rivals. Last year's game at Pahokee was especially memorable. Clewisson pulled out a 19-18 win on Pete Walker's

"That game was played as hard for four quarters as any game we've ever played," Morrell recalled.

"I felt like we should've won earlier without the mistakes we made. But Pahokee easily could've won, too. In a way, we were lucky to win it."

The Tigers are relatively healthy for the Blue Devils. Only tackle Jack Harrison will be sidelined with a foot injury more serious than it first appeared.

Morrell, who has been unhappy with his team's performance in several games this season, thinks the Tigers are ready.

By BILL BRYANT

Marijuana smugglers may be bringing more than just pot to the United States.

According to Hank Andreis, vice-president of United States Sugar Corporation (USSC) research, perkinsiella, a disease commonly known as a sugarcane leaf hopper—in August was discovered in a Florida cane field by Dr. Omelio Sosa, Jr., a USSC research entomologist. The discovery marked the first time the sugarcane leaf hopper has appeared in North America.

"We think the leaf hopper may have been introduced to Florida and the United States in buds of marijuana dropped from the air by smugglers," Andreis said.

Andreis noted that the leaf hopper had previously been discovered in Australia and Hawaii. He explained that the cane crop in Australia had been virtually destroyed by the "deadened" Fiji disease—which the leaf hopper can carry. But, in Hawaii, as is presently the case in Florida, Fiji virus has not yet appeared in sugarcane fields.

However, Dr. Sosa pointed out that the leaf hopper can be very damaging by itself and is a "proven vector" (carrier) of Fiji disease.

"We are monitoring the situation very closely," Sosa said, adding that "the pest hasn't caused any severe damage to the Florida cane crop yet."

The dedication of a new Belle Glade High School building was being planned for the following weekend, with ceremonies scheduled to take place in the new building's auditorium.

The dedication ceremonies were to include musical selections by the high school band and remarks by a variety of officials. Septic tanks were being discussed again as a special meeting was set at the courthouse in West Palm Beach by the Palm Beach County Health Department.

Keep Halloween safe

Belle Glade—Halloween is a fun and spirited holiday—full of candy and costumes and pranks—but it can also be a dangerous holiday for children, according to George Goforth of the Superior Muffler Shop at 2545 East Canal Street in Belle Glade.

Superior Muffler Centers across North America are striving for a safe Halloween this year with their "Keep Your Kids and Your Car Safe" program. The 1,600 dealers are handing out bright yellow and orange plastic Halloween bags at no cost from now until Halloween. Incentives on the bags are the following safety tips:

—Go trick-or-treating with an adult, or sketch two maps of the route you and your friends will take. Give one map to your parents, take the other with you—follow that route.

—Wear light colored clothing, use reflective tape strips, remove masks when crossing streets.

—Don't eat anything until you're back home and your parents have inspected your treats.

—Use sidewalks, cross at intersections only—and have a hauntingly ghoulish time!

There is a tear-off coupon on the bottom of the Halloween bag, which entitles parents to a total exhaust system checkup free.

BELLE GLADE—With Thanksgiving near, and Christmas just around the corner, families can earn extra cash for festive occasions and conserve natural resources by recycling aluminum.

Andreis said, "So far, we don't have the Fiji disease in Florida so the disease can't spread."

He explained that the leaf hopper became so numerous in Hawaii that the leaves of the sugarcane turned brown and the growers "lost a lot of cane."

Since the leaf hopper has just recently been identified, researchers don't know how long the insect has been in Florida, but Andreis said, "If the leaf hopper has been in Florida for a long time, the population was so small it wasn't noticed."

But, he emphasized that since the discovery of the insect, researchers had learned that there is a relatively large population of the pest in Florida.

"The insect has been present in virtually every cane field tested," he said.

Dr. Sosa related that USSC researchers would import parasites and predators of the leaf hopper from Hawaii in an effort to eradicate the insect. According to Sosa, Hawaiian cane growers have been using egg predators to control the leaf hopper.

He explained that the predators and parasites would be sent to Gainesville first, where they would be quarantined for a certain period of time to make sure they were disease free.

"We will also be looking at which pesticides are effective against the leaf hopper," Sosa said.

"Taking It From The Top"

by Dr. David T. Evans

GOD'S ANSWER TO MAN'S REBELLION

Man's worst act is the result of God's permission for him to be free. Because man is free, he is able to sin.

This freedom of choice makes him superior to all creation and at the same time makes him desirous of being God. Our first parents were given everything except the permission to eat of one tree. They fell because they could not stand up under the temptation to be like God.

Each of us has the opportunity to resist this temptation and fails. Whether we believe in the fall of Adam and Eve or not, makes no difference. All of us have given in to the desire of being on the par with God.

As terrible as this disloyal act to God is, the result in man is much worse. The rebellion of man against God's laws and therefore against Him, is the first step in his self-destruction.

John Calvin felt that man's disobedience ended in the almost destruction of the image of God in which he was created. Further than that, sin has permeated man's whole being entirely. God in wisdom knew that man could not develop without freedom of choice. At the same time, God knew that man must be punished for his disobedience. Punishment in reality is self-inflicted, because we suffer the consequences of our rebellion against God.

Out of this suffering and affliction by God's using of evil for good, comes the development of character and the strength to face life. God also planned for the rescue of man from his sinful state.

In spite of what trouble we cause ourselves and others, God provides a means of salvation. Since sin is so serious and we are so helpless, He had to use His Son. Further, only a pure sacrifice could be offered to pay for our sins. Therefore, only Christ, who is one with God and pure being without sin, could do this.

While God allowed sin to get a death grip on us, which threatened to destroy us, He provided for our release. At the same time, God helps us grow through freedom of choice and the suffering through wrong choice.

Death preparation seminar Sunday

GLADE—"Planning for Death," a monthly informational seminar sponsored by Miller Mortuary will be held Sunday, Oct. 17 from 3 to 4 p.m., at the Mortuary Chapel and grave space.

The seminar is open to the general public, and will feature consultants and specialists in many fields.

According to Mr. Henry L. Miller, there will be presentations on such topics as: "How to buy insurance," "What will your Social Security benefits be," "What you need to know about funeral costs."

"Who inherits what from whom," "Automobile and accident insurance," "The cost of cemetery and grave space."

"Pre-planning your funeral." Miller said the seminars will be held the third Sunday of each month, beginning in October.

He said nothing will be sold by anyone, and refreshments will be served during the "question and answer" period.

In 1949 Poole started his own show "The Negro Gospel Hour". He became the "Ebony Voice" to many of his listeners.

During WSWN's first years, it would become one of the state's most listened to radio station. The station played "barn yard dance music", today's version of Country-Western music.

The Seminole Broadcasting company continued to operate the station for 17 years before its present owner, E.T. Rivers, bought the chain out.

During its next 20 years, WSWN would outgrow its studio at the Scarborough Building and would relocate to State Road 715 in a trailer and later to a new building complex.

The station program would change and an FM station would be added.

Today, in addition to Country-Western music, the station format includes a variety of religious programs, Spanish, Haitian, West Indies and Soul programs.

Ms. Rivers said the station's signal can be picked in the Gran Bahamas and in parts of Arkansas.

Phil Haire is the station's general manager. Marvin Smith served as general manager of the station for 30 years before retiring in 1980.

Carroll C. Turner joined the station in 1965 as the chief engineer.

Mrs. Diane Scott is the bookkeeper and Ms. Tammy Haire is the receptionist.

The station employs a number of announcers. They include Harvey Poole, Jimmy Sims, Greg Archer, Lee McGuire, Rick Mathis, and Frank Milner on the AM Station.

Among the stations list of former announcers is D. Bill Mathis, Chief of Police for the City of Belle Glade. Mathis served as announcer with the station from 1947 to 1959. Gene Hollingworth, owner of Hollingworth Shoes worked at the station from 1965 through 1970.

Simon Train, now the number one announcer for Country K, was employed at WSWN from 1971 through 1978.

Billy Eggleston, presently the bookkeeper for Seminole Supply, was known to all his fans as "Barn Yard Willie", and Dr. Allen Baker also aired a medical program.

BELLE GLADE-PAHOKEE, FL.

SOUTHERN BELL new central station in Pahokee should be completed by early November. Standing Bob White, local

New telephone system installation on schedule

PAHOKEE-Pahokee residents can expect Touchtone service and all the custom calling features available to Southern Bell customers in early November according to Bob White, Southern Bell's local manager.

Southern Bell began installing a new central office system in Pahokee in July, White said. "The conversion is right on schedule and everyone involved in the project is extremely pleased with the smoothness of the transition."

When the new office goes into use in November, approximately 2,800 Pahokee customers will be transferred to it.

"This is the most technologically advanced digital electronic central office obtainable today and will provide our customers in Pahokee and the surrounding areas with Touch Tone and such features as Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, and Speed Calling," said White.

"However," said White, "It's going to take some time for our customers to get used to the new sounding dial-tone produced by the electronic office. The central office will be so fast that customers will have dial-tone immediately upon picking up the receiver. Even with these differences, we don't anticipate any problems," said White.

When the switch over is ready in November, a command center will be established at noon one day before the cutover and will remain in operation until 6 p.m., one day after the cutover to direct the conversion.

Service technicians will also be stationed at the hospital and Pahokee police station to ensure continuous communication to these agencies.

The conversion project, priced at one and a half million dollars, has been in the works for about one year.

New Boy Scout project builds self-reliance

The Boy Scouts of America has introduced Prepared for Today, a new project that helps children be more self-reliant. "Prepared for Today is especially useful for children who spend time alone, such as after school, or who supervise younger brothers or sisters," said Chuck Potter, President of the Gulf Stream Council. "The skills taught in Prepared for Today are particularly valuable to the growing number of children from single-parent or two-job families. However, in reality, the skills are useful to nearly every child in America, no matter what his family situation is," Potter said.

The heart of the Prepared for Today project is an easy-to-read booklet that calls for the child and an adult to discuss common situations that face children who must spend time in the home or neighborhood alone. The booklet helps the child learn to cope with situations and problems kids sometimes face. Children who complete the workbook receive colorful "I'm Prepared for Today" T-Shirt iron-ons.

"The Boy Scouts of America is going to make it available not only to Cub Scout Packs and Boy Scout Troops, but to schools, churches, PTA's, companies and other community organizations as well," Potter said. "These organizations and agencies can offer it to any and all children they serve girls as well as boys." Potter explained that Prepared for Today grew out of a commitment among Boy Scout volunteers and Scout professionals to improve Scouting's service to single-parent boys.

"Early in the development phase, everyone realized that all children today face tremendous challenges, not just single-parent children. That is why we also are offering Prepared for Today to groups outside Scouting," Potter said. In Prepared for Today, children learn skills in the following areas:

- Prepared to be Home Alone.
 - Prepared to Fix Something to Eat.
 - Prepared for Home Safety.
 - Prepared to Know Your Neighborhood.
 - Prepared to Care for Young Children.
- In addition, Prepared for Today enables children and parents to discuss and anticipate difficult situations that may arise. The book described certain problems and asks the child and parent to discuss how to handle them. Among the situations:

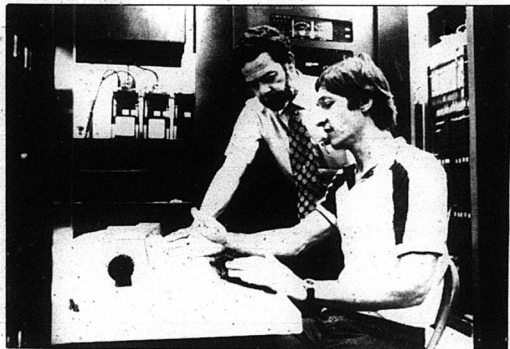

- A child is with a group of friends at a store, and the other children start shoplifting. They ask the child to do the same.

- An older boy hangs around school and tries to give pills to students.
- No adult is at home when a man knocks on the door and asks to be let in. He says he is there to read the meter, but he is not wearing a uniform.

Prepared for Today grew out of a three-year research, development and testing project undertaken by the Boy Scouts of America to identify ways it can better serve the youth of America. The project, called Foundations for Growth, includes four components that will be introduced this fall. Besides Prepared for Today, the package also includes Tiger Cubs BSA, a new family-oriented program for the 7-year-old

Stress Laboratory opens

BELLE GLADE-Today, everyone from the sixth-grader to the retiree can be found at the new Stress Laboratory, and just having fun while campaigning to get in shape. Cardiologist Chandra Venugopal, M.D., says that exercise can be detrimental. He says that "Anyone over the age of forty, planning to start a fitness program that includes strenuous exercises, should a cardiac stress test first."

The stress test is performed on a treadmill exercise machine. This test is now being performed at the Cardiac Stress Laboratory recently opened at Glades General Hospital. The treadmill stress test is used in determining the functional ability of the heart and unmasking latent coronary artery diseases.

The Laboratory is under the medical direction of Cardiologists Chandra Venugopal, M.D. and Jaime Ben Simon, M.D. A blood pressure cuff and EKG machine is connected to the patient as he exercises on the treadmill.

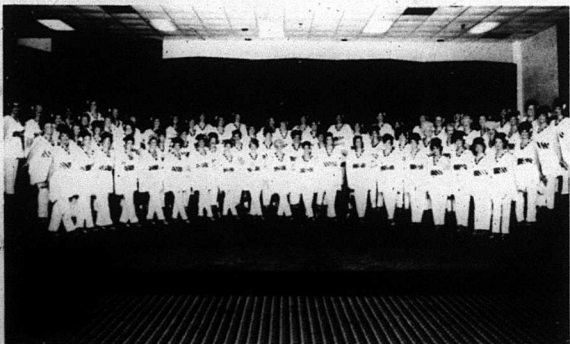

By monitoring the heart during exercise, doctors can spot potential problems and study the progress of cardiac patients. As exercise causes the heart to work harder, an electrocardiogram can show the heart's response to stress. As the demand for the heart increases with ex-the cultural arts center.

The chorus is an "exciting, dynamic singing" group of women of varied ages and walks of life, who spend a minimum of one evening a week perfecting their music and choreography for public performances, which includes their annual show. Tickets to the performance are $3 per person. Mrs. Judy Schiele, director of the center said good tickets are still available. Tickets are on sale at PBJC-Glades Registrar's office and Golden Charms Jewelers.

Mrs. Schiele said group seating can be arranged for large groups.

The Royal Palm Chorus has been a consistent medalist in their regional competition each year and in April 1981 won the coveted title of Regional Champions, which entitled them to compete in the International Chorus.

Ruth Ann Wilson is the director of the group. She began her music career at the age of six. Under the guidance of her father, she traveled around the United States for ten years singing for various groups and organizations.

Having previously directed the Miami chorus for a number of years, she and her husband Harlan moved to Lake Shore a little over four years ago. She has directed the Sweet Adelines since October 1975.

Mrs. Worth was previously singing baritone with the Hurricane Honeyes who became 1967 International Queens of Harmony at Carnegie Hall.

Migrant program meeting Thursday

BELLE GLADE-PAHOKEE, FL.

SOUTHERN BELL new central station in Pahokee should be completed by early November. Standing Bob White, local

New telephone system installation on schedule

PAHOKEE-Pahokee residents can expect Touchtone service and all the custom calling features available to Southern Bell customers in early November according to Bob White, Southern Bell's local manager.

Southern Bell began installing a new central office system in Pahokee in July, White said. "The conversion is right on schedule and everyone involved in the project is extremely pleased with the smoothness of the transition."

When the new office goes into use in November, approximately 2,800 Pahokee customers will be transferred to it.

"This is the most technologically advanced digital electronic central office obtainable today and will provide our customers in Pahokee and the surrounding areas with Touch Tone and such features as Call Waiting, Call Forwarding, Three Way Calling, and Speed Calling," said White.

"However," said White, "it's going to take some time for our customers to get used to the new sounding dial-tone produced by the electronic office. The central office will be so fast that customers will have dial-tone immediately upon picking up the receiver. Even with these differences, we don't anticipate any problems," said White.

When the switch over is ready in November, a command center will be established at noon one day before the cutover and will remain in operation until 6 p.m., one day after the cutover to direct the conversion.

Service technicians will also be stationed at the hospital and Pahokee police station to ensure continuous communication to these agencies.

The conversion project, priced at one and a half million dollars, has been in the works for about one year.

New Boy Scout project builds self-reliance

The Boy Scouts of America has introduced Prepared for Today, a new project that helps children be more self-reliant. "Prepared for Today is especially useful for children who spend time alone, such as after school, or who supervise younger brothers or sisters," said Chuck Potter, President of the Gulf Stream Council. "The skills taught in Prepared for Today are particularly valuable to the growing number of children from single-parent or two-job families. However, in reality, the skills are useful to nearly every child in America, no matter what his family situation is," Potter said.

The heart of the Prepared for Today project is an easy-to-read booklet that calls for the child and an adult to discuss common situations that face children who must spend time in the home or neighborhood alone. The booklet helps the child learn to cope with situations and problems kids sometimes face. Children who complete the workbook receive colorful "I'm Prepared for Today" T-Shirt iron-ons. "The Boy Scouts of America is going to make it available not only to Cub Scout Packs and Boy Scout Troops, but to schools, churches, PTA's, companies and other community organizations as well," Potter said. "These organizations and agencies can offer it to any and all children they serve—girls as well as boys." Potter explained that Prepared for Today, grew out of a commitment among Boy Scout volunteers and Scout professionals to improve Scouting's service to single-parent boys.

"Early in the development phase, everyone realized that all children today face tremendous challenges, not just single-parent children. That is why we also are offering Prepared for Today to groups outside Scouting," Potter said. In Prepared for Today, children learn skills in the following areas:

- Prepared to be Home Alone.
 - Prepared to Fix Something to Eat.
 - Prepared for Home Safety.
 - Prepared to Know Your Neighborhood.
 - Prepared to Care for Young Children.
- In addition, Prepared for Today enables children and parents to discuss and anticipate difficult situations before they arise. The book described certain problems and asks the child and parent to discuss how to handle them. Among the situations:

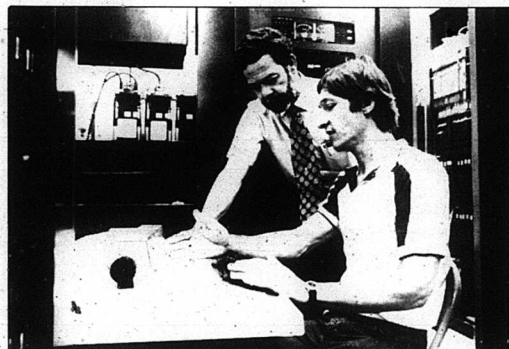

- A child is with a group of friends at a store, and the other children start shoplifting. They ask the child to do the same.

- An older boy hangs around school and tries to give pills to students.
- No adult is at home when a man knocks on the door and asks to be let in. He says he is there to read the meter, but he is not wearing a uniform.

Prepared for Today grew out of a three-year research, development and testing project undertaken by the Boy Scouts of America to identify ways the organization can better serve the youth of America. The project, called Foundations for Growth, includes four components that will be introduced this fall. Besides Prepared for Today, the package also includes Tiger Cubs BSA, a new family-oriented program for the 7-year-old

BELLE GLADE—Today, everyone from the sixth-grader to the retiree can be found biking, jogging, and just having fun while campaigning to get in shape. Cardiologist Chandra Venugopal, M.D., says that exercise can be detrimental. He says that "Anyone over the age of forty, planning to start a fitness program that includes strenuous exercises, should a cardiac stress test first."

The stress test is performed on a treadmill exercise machine. This test is now being performed at the Cardiac Stress Laboratory recently opened at Glades General Hospital. The treadmill stress test is used in determining the functional ability of the heart and unmasking latent coronary artery diseases.

The Laboratory is under the medical direction of Cardiologists Chandra Venugopal, M.D. and Jaime Bensimon, M.D. A blood pressure cuff and EKG machine is connected to the patient as he exercises on the treadmill.

By monitoring the heart during exercise, doctors can spot potential problems and study the progress of cardiac patients. As exercise causes the heart to work harder, an electrocardiogram can show the heart's response to stress. As the demand for the heart increases with ex-

Sweet Adelines in concert at cultural arts center

BELLE GLADE—The Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center will feature its first musical of the fall season on Thursday, Oct. 23.

The Royal Chorus chapter of Sweet Adelines from West Palm Beach will present an evening of four part harmony, barbershop style concert at the cultural arts center.

The chorus is an "exciting, dynamic singing" group of women of varied ages and walks of life, who spend a minimum of one evening a week perfecting their music and choreography for public performances, which includes their annual show. Tickets to the performance are $3 per person. Mrs. Judy Schiele, director of the center said good tickets are still available. Tickets are on sale at PB/C-Clades Registrar's office and Golden Charms Jewelers.

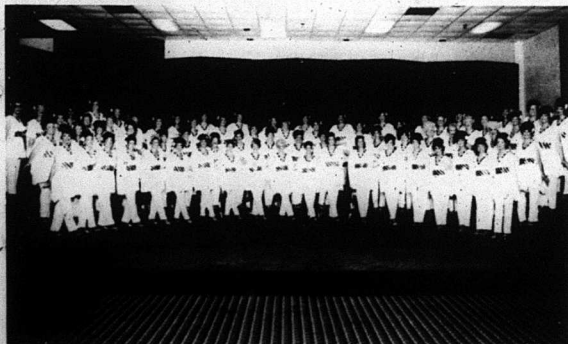

Mrs. Schiele said groups seating can be arranged for large groups.

The Royal Palm Chorus has been a consistent medalist in their regional competition each year and in April 1981 won the coveted title of Regional Champions, which entitled them to compete in the International Chorus.

Ruth Ann Wilson is the director of the group. She began her music career at the age of six. Under the guidance of her father, she traveled around the United States for ten years singing for various groups and organization.

Having previously directed the Miami chorus for a number of years, she and her husband Harlan moved to Lake Shore a little over four years ago. She has directed the Sweet Adelines since October 1975.

Mrs. Worth was previously singing baritone with the Hurricane Honeyes who became 1967 International Queens of Harmony at Carnegie Hall.

Migrant program meeting Thursday

WEST PALM BEACH—There will be a Chapter I: Basic and Migrant Programs Districtwide Parent Council meeting at the Marine Reserve Training Center across from Building 503 at the central offices of the Palm Beach County Schools at 11 a.m. on Thursday, Oct. 14.

All parents and interested residents are invited and welcome to attend the meeting.

An overview of the Basic and Migrant programs as well as the plan for Parental Involvement in Chapter I will be presented.

A preliminary Chapter I parent survey and parent budget will also be reviewed.

For further information, you may call Gregory C. Belli, Parental Involvement Coordinator, ECLA Chapter I Program, at 684-5121.
